

IMAGINE

~by Kimberly

Can one begin to see the vast potential of the movement to peacefully unite the world as one family of brothers and sisters?! As more and more of society moves closer and closer to freely discovering and living their unique happiness without the concerns and stresses of fending for their basic needs, it will allow for the “vision” to be created of just what is possible here on planet earth.

Those who choose parenthood will be able to (without stress and concern for providing for their little one’s basic needs) enjoy their interactions as they bring forth their own true propensities.

Children will be free to enjoy childhood.

Imagine a global society where the unique creative forces and long-dormant abilities of human genius is displayed—not by a mere handful of humans at a time, scattered throughout the globe, but by each individual, both as individuals and harmoniously engaged. The “hummmmm” of the creative passion and thought and expression of this planet will literally explode and erupt in achieving the healing, reconstruction, beautification and enjoyment of all that “Mother Earth” affords.

As more and more move closer and closer to the realization of WHO THEY ARE and freely and passionately explore their own unique gifts and inner driving, great synergy will be unleashed. The potential of this planet will have no bounds. The JOY. The innovative technology, creative dance, visual arts, music, architecture, physical feats etc. etc. will explore heights never yet considered.

The “fingers” that have been used previously to point in scorn and derision, lifting weapons of destruction, will be able to be put to the use that they were created for—joyfully creating and exploring their own potential, no longer concerned with others who might take or destroy their limited resources and possible freedoms.

Those who have “worn their fingers to the bone” in the constant strife of a malfunctioning global treadmill of eking out a bare existence will suddenly be freed to heal, express and rejoice. In PEACE! Smiles that have never graced faces will illumine JOY from deep within. Grace, beauty and harmony will be brought forth from previously stark and life-less near-corpses.

The dog-eat-dog world, the rat race, will all be left behind. There is no way that even the animal kingdom (dogs and rats included) will remain as it is. Each animal will be allowed to shift and experience more of the natural peaceful interaction that is its inherent “birth right.” The creative measure of all species on this globe will be filled to the brim and overflowing.

AND, the great vision and achievements of those of the past—the “Roger Bannisters,” Michaelangelos,” “da Vinci’s,” “Einsteins,” etc. etc. will begin to look more and more archaic, even Neanderthal, for they were only able to achieve what they could while still surviving in a world filled with strife and groveling. However, as the needs of ALL are freely and continually filled, the limiting element of awareness and compassion for our “planet mates” will be less and less of a background noise in an otherwise creative mind, making “mental clutter” a thing of the past.

Beautiful minds, smiles, interactions will explode right off the charts of just what is possible. Again, not by just a handful, but...by ALL!

Imagine. Just imagine.

And consider: What would YOUR life look like with no more stress and tension? What steps can YOU take to more fully live the inner joy of YOUR being? Besides signing the Worldwide United Foundation declaration and spreading the word of a life that’s not just possible, but on the verge of happening... begin to discover (really) WHO YOU ARE.

Imagine. Just imagine...

And LIVE!!!
